UBC MENTORING: BUILDING PARTNERSHIPS FOR THE FUTURE

Who is Eligible?

In order to attend the UBC Mentoring: Building Partnerships for the Future program, participants should have a solid work history and a good reputation within the industry. He or she should demonstrate strong communication skills, a positive, can-do attitude, and be willing and able to attend the program.

The UBC's strongest assets are its members. Our members bring with them a wealth of knowledge about the UBC, the industry, the contractors we are partnered with and the unique challenges of our jobsites. By utilizing our members' knowledge and strengthening their mentoring skills, we can ensure a stronger future for all our members.

Through mentoring partnerships, we present the next generation of carpenters with the tools necessary to succeed, and to increase the strength of the UBC today and tomorrow. Candidates attending this program learn essential skills to help them be successful in mentoring partnerships.

The UBC Mentoring Program includes:

- UBC History & Heritage
- Leadership
- The UBC Today
- Generational Differences
- Communication Skills
- Mentoring For Success
- Coaching for Productivity
- Planning for Effective Mentoring

The UBC Department of Education and Training is the architect behind training UBC employees and members in skills to be successful on and off the jobsite. The DET aligns education, training, and development of members and employees with the mission of the Brotherhood. By focusing on developing Growth, Skill & Professionalism, and Organizational Effectiveness, the DET is creating the foundation for the UBC to achieve its goal of securing the future of working carpenters by achieving 70% or more market share.
